

Introducing the Season's Correct Styles in Straw and Panama Hats

Join nature's springtime parade by donning a light airy straw or Panama hat today. Come to this hat store and meet the new comers in sailor straws at $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00.

Scimit brails are very stylish, with split brails a close second if not an equal rival.

There are shapes here for men and young fellows of every taste and physique.

Young men who dress with care take to these sailors with wide bands, having medium crown and brim, being the exact copy of an English hat so popular in the east today.

Plenty of medium width band sailors for those who prefer them.

Soft Milan straws in Alpine and telescope styles $4.00 and $5.00.

The "Baucock" featherweight hat is the lightest thing in straw—soft and pliable, brim medium wide with telescope crown, $7.00. The "Leghorn" is another much favored and light weight summer hat. Made also in telescope crown. Very flexible and easy on the head, $5.00.

Panamas in telescope, Alpine and round crowns—styles for young, middle aged or old men, $6.00 to $15.00.

The Printing Point

Good typewritten letters convey an impression of good business methods, and the machine is often responsible for the appearance.

types always reach the proper printing point. The type-bar operates through—or with—a guide—a feature peculiar to the UNDERWOOD. The type MUST go right. There's no other way. It cannot wobble. Good looking work is assured and the UNDERWOOD features prevent operator's blunders.

The simple mechanism which secures perfect work in the Underwood is a mighty interesting exhibit of ingenuity and skill. Why not come look at it? Knowledge of the Underwood will help you to secure greater efficiency. It will be a pleasure to help you to just as much knowledge of the Underwood Standard Typewriter as YOU choose to acquire.

Pikeville, Ky., April 27.—Last night Thomas C. Cecil Lodge No. 375, F. and A. M., held a special meeting at Masonic Hall, at which the third degree was conferred on three candidates—George Parsons, Tom Calloway and Elias Hatfield—and the lecture was delivered by T. C. Songer of Ashland, and this was said by those who heard it to have been the finest and most instructive they ever listened to in their lives. After the close of the lodge, the large assembly of local members and visiting-brethren then repaired to the Connolly House and a banquet followed in honor of Mr. Songer.

That it is dangerous to scrap with a man when his wife is nearby can be thoroughly attested to by a man by the name of Carley, who is nursing a very sore head, as a result of an altercation he was having last Friday with Alex Church, when Mrs. Church armed herself with a hammer and proceeded to take a hand in the fight, using the hammer with telling effect on Carley's head.

There may be some extenuating circumstances in the case of Mrs. Church's free use of the hammer, because there may not have been any broom stick handy, and perhaps Mayor Morris so considered it, when Monday morning he imposed a fine of $10 against each of the Churches.—Tri-State Enterprise.

A roar that was heard all through West Huntington attracted the attention of the people in that section of the city and throughout Harveys town and community Saturday night, and investigation developed that another outrage had been perpetrated in Harveys town, probably by the very same outlaws who shot into Harveys town church and a residence several weeks ago.

A heavy charge of dynamite was placed under an outbuilding adjoining the schoolhouse and set off about 10 o'clock, just as singing school was being dismissed, blowing the building into a million pieces, literally wiping it out of existence, and almost jarring the schoolhouse from its foundation. The whole town for a moment, was terrorized, and an investigation was begun at once by the seven recently appointed deputies named by Sheriff Harsh-

The Facts About Pe=ru-na.

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use Peruna as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a toddy, or a hitter, or a bracer?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take this remedy in doses considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. Would the result be alcoholic intoxication? Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medical compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a positive drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a beverage; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for liquors. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHEAP WHISKEY—OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent. of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again that chemists have analyzed Peruna and found it to contain only cubeba and whiskey. Now we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement. Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubeba. Of course, cubeba is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients. It contains hydnastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could so analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of any chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubeba.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be so easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubeba he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to speak the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements, without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Used according to the directions on the bottle, PERUNA IS A SAFE AND RELIABLE CATARRH REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, if taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about which he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an intoxicant; that if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "booze." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubeba may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this oft-repeated falsehood.

berger to keep down lawlessness in that community. An alarm was telephoned in to the police, who referred the matter to Sheriff Harshberger, who in turn telephoned the Harveys town officials that they had been appointed for such cases and to take care of it.
